

Opportunities in Renewable Energy

To bolster market opportunities for renewable energy and promote its global development, China Power has actively engaged in cooperation with domestic and international government agencies, large enterprises, research institutions, and industry associations. By the end of 2023, we had established strategic partnerships with many organizations including the Ministry of Energy of Kyrgyzstan, the Fangshan District People's Government of Beijing Municipality, China Post, Chongqing Expressway, JD Group, Jilong Group in Spain, University of Malaya, China Academy of Industrial Internet, International Academician Innovation Center, and the Shenzhen Smart Low-Carbon Association. Furthermore, we have actively invested in renewable energy projects like wind and solar energy, propelling the development and application of clean energy.
